Safety Tips

Hypothermia is the dangerous loss of body heat.
To help someone suffering from hypothermia:

- Get the victim out of the cold.
- Replace wet clothes with dry and put the victim in a sleeping bag.
- Warm the victim by building a fire, using heated blankets, or filling canteens with hot water.
- Give the victim warm liquids.
- Never give drinks to an unconscious person and never offer alcohol.
- Try to keep the victim awake.
- Seek medical attention as soon as possible.

Please respect other recreationists, wildlife and natural resources.

Food Storage Order

Unattended food, refuse, and attractants must be stored in hard-sided vehicles or bear-resistant containers certified through the Interagency Grizzly Bear Committee, or it must be hung above the ground at least 10 feet clear of the ground at all points and 4 feet horizontally from any supporting tree or pole. These restrictions apply to all locations on the Gallatin National Forest from March 1 through Nov 30.

Animal Carcasses

Must be acceptably stored when located 100 yards to ½ mile of a camping or sleeping area or within 200 yards of a National Forest Trail. Animal carcasses more than ½ mile from a camping area or more than 200 yards from a National Forest System Trails may be left on the ground. These restrictions apply to all locations on the Gallatin National Forest from March 1 through Nov 30.

Motor Vehicle Use

It is prohibited to possess or operate a motor vehicle on Forest System Lands other than in accordance with their designation. All motorized travel on the Gallatin National Forest is restricted to legally designated routes.

This map was designed to be used in conjunction with the Gallatin National Forest Motor Vehicle Use Maps. These maps can be found at district offices and are available on line at <http://www.fs.fed.us/r1/gallatin/> under “Travel Planning”.

Over Snow Vehicle Use

The vast majority of Forest Service roads on the Hebgen Lake Ranger District close to wheeled vehicles on December 2nd annually. Many roads become groomed snowmobile trails at that time prohibiting use of wheeled vehicles. Areas open to over snow vehicles on the Gallatin National Forest are limited to snowmobiles. A snowmobile is defined as a motorized vehicle 50 inches or less in width, designed for use over snow, runs on a track and uses one or more skis for steering. All other over-snow vehicles are prohibited year-long.

Some areas of the Gallatin National Forest are closed to Over-Snow Vehicles yearlong. See the Gallatin National Forest Over-Snow Vehicle Use Map for complete details showing open and restricted areas.
